PRIZE DRAWING ATTRACTS CROWD

MRS. V. BOIDO, VICTORINA TRUJILLO AND E. SANDS HOLDERS OF CERTIFICATES WITH LUCKY NUMBERS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Once more the Royal Theater was well filled Wednesday evening when it came time to draw the prize-winning numbers from the box in the South San Francisco Merchants' Association "Trade at Home" campaign. The interest that all in the house showed in the drawing is indicative of the growing interest being taken in the big campaign. The prize winners were Mrs. V. Boido of 326 Grand avenue, Victorina Trujillo of 728 San Bruno road, and E. Sands of 633 Grand avenue. Mrs. Boido won the $5 prize with No. 1903, Victorina Trujillo won $3 with No. 6413, while E. Sands won $2 with No. 591. Secretary Angelo Scampini of the Merchants' Association conducted the drawing.

The fact that the merchants testify that their customers are practically all asking for the little blue coupons now is the best possible evidence that the residents of the city are fast getting to realize the importance of the campaign and the fact that the prize drawing means much to them. Misunderstandings and uncertainties concerning the campaign in the minds of patrons of local stores have disappeared and, practically everybody, buyers and storekeepers alike, have united to make the campaign the big success it is fast getting to be. A noteworthy feature of the campaign is the way it has brought local merchants together, almost every store of note in town being now engaged in giving the little blue coupons to its customers.

During the past week two more local firms joined the ranks of those giving the coupons and helping to boost the campaign, these being Viani & Tiani, shoe merchants, and the Bonanza clothing store, both of Grand avenue.

The stores now giving the coupons to their customers are listed as follows:

A. T. Arndt.
Barkoff's.
Baden Cash Store.
Columbia Meat Market.
Curusis Bros.
The Enterprise.
Greenberg's.
The Hub.
Hawkins & Coughlan.
Jennings' Pharmacy.
Santini & Roccucci.
C. F. Schurk.
Scampini's.
South City Meat Market.
Peninsula Drug Store.
W. C. Schneider.
Charles Bollazzi.
Viette & Thatcher.
Viani & Tiani.
M. Bonanza.

CANDIDATES FOR JUSTICE MAKING WARM CAMPAIGNS

As the general election to be held November 7th draws near, considerable interest is felt in this township over the contest for the office of justice of the peace. With two offices to fill the November ballot will show the names of four candidates asking the support of the voters. These candidates are W. J. Smith of South San Francisco, present justice, who is registered as a Republican; Ellis C. Johnson of Daly City, incumbent, registered as a Democrat; J. L. Brown of Daly City, registered as a Democrat, and Edward Farrell of this city, registered as a Socialist. At the primary election held in August these four polled the highest number of votes out of eight candidates for the office. Since that time each of the four has been doing more or less campaigning, and each is confident of being one of the two who will "make the grade" at the general election.

The third corner of the "eternal triangle" is never "square."

WATER COMPANY FILLS BIG NEW RESERVOIR

Great Tank in West End City Designed to Provide Town for Many Years and Raise Water Pressure.

Monday saw water turned into the huge new reservoir constructed by the South San Francisco Water Company in the west end of town. The reservoir was filled for testing purposes and will not be used for the present or until the big new distributing main being laid on Chestnut avenue is completed. The new reservoir will then be put into active service.

The new reservoir is a most important adjunct to the system of the local water company and has been constructed with its attendant water main at heavy expense in order to give this city a thoroughly efficient water system and to provide for the growth of this city for many years to come. It also adds greatly to the efficiency of the local water supply in case of fire, as the pressure in the mains is increased by the elevation of the huge tank.

The great circular structure, built of reinforced concrete, has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons. Four hundred barrels of cement were used in its construction, together with eighteen tons of reinforcing steel and 280 yards of rock. The forms in which the cement was poured required 50,000 feet of lumber. The big tank is 135 feet in diameter and approximately 425 feet in circumference. Its sides are fifteen feet high, and the reservoir itself is ten feet higher in elevation than the reservoirs on the east side of town which have hitherto been the distributing point for the local water supply.

The new reservoir is practically a double tank, as there is a circular chamber about twenty feet in diameter in the center from which the water is drawn after it has been received in the main part of the reservoir and allowed to settle. The walls of the inner compartment extend to the roof, the water gaining entrance through openings just under the rafters. The outer walls of the main structure are a foot in thickness. According to the contractor, much less heavy walls would have sufficed if reinforced in the same way with steel, but J. O. Snyder, vice-president of the water company, under whose supervision the structure was built, wished to insure the great tank for all time against the danger of giving way.

In the two pipe lines laid from the pumping station at the foot of Chestnut avenue to the new reservoir and from it to distributing mains, over 200 tons of 18 and 12-inch pipe have been used.

The entire work for the big project has been accomplished in three months, the ground for the reservoir being broken July 25th. MacDonald & Kahn were the contractors who built the reservoir.

MANY AUTOS USE BAY SHORE IS PROVEN BY OBSERVER

One hears and sees much of the congestion of traffic on the state highway, but figures submitted to The Enterprise by J. P. Lewis of Peck's Lots proves that the Bay Shore road is carrying more traffic than most persons realize. Last Sunday Mr. Lewis counted the machines passing during three five-minute periods at different times of the day. At one period in the morning seventy-nine cars passed within five minutes, at another fifty-eight; while at one time in the afternoon eighty-five cars passed within five minutes, making 222 cars that passed within fifteen minutes.

STOLEN HUP AUTO FOUND NEAR BADEN

Several local boys found a Hupmobile touring car stripped and abandoned on the sand road near Baden crossing Sunday morning. The officers were notified and, getting in touch with San Francisco police, it was learned that the machine belonged to a Mrs. Evans of that city and that it had been stolen Saturday night. The thieves had stripped the machine of tires, lights, spark plugs, cushions, and in fact practically everything removable.

No profit is without honor.

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Did you ever stop to think—

That the city that gets the publicity gets the business?

That the city that gets the advertising grows?

That advertising a city is a business, not child's play?

That people will go miles to a good, live city to trade?

That your property will increase in value when the outside world knows that your city is wide-awake?

That people from neighboring cities will come where there is something doing?

That the city which does not seek something better than it now has is going to lose out?

That now is the time your city and business needs advertising more than ever before?

That if you don't get out and go after the trade, some neighboring city will?

That if they do, they will get the business you should get?

SPRING VALLEY HOST TO COUNTY SCRIBES

Newspaper Men Taken on Inspection Trip Over Company Property.

The Spring Valley Water Company was host Monday to the newspaper men of San Mateo county, conducting the scribes over the company's property on both the west and east sides of the bay. The party was under the management of W. B. Lawrence, superintendent of the company's water department, assisted by Assistant Superintendent G. J. Davis; Edward Francis O'Day, the company's publicity manager; T. J. Wilder, manager of the real estate department, and S. M. Millard, hydraulic engineer. The guests included E. J. Halcrow of the Daly City Record, G. A. Helmire and Oscar Curall of the San Bruno Herald, E. S. Riggins of the San Mateo News-Leader, Horace Amphlett of the San Mateo Times, S. D. Merk of the Burlingame Advance, Dennis O'Keefe of the Redwood City Times-Gazette, and Robert Speed of the South San Francisco Enterprise.

Although all the newspaper men were more or less familiar with the properties of the company, the size of those holdings and the scope of the water company's operations was a revelation to all. During the day much was learned, not only about the Spring Valley Company's developments, but also about the Hetch Hetchy project and the work done so far.

The party first visited the stone dam at Lake San Andreas, and thence to Pilarcitos Lake, one of the most beautiful spots in the state and the first scene of development in the Spring Valley properties, the first work having been done there in 1860. The party then proceeded to Crystal Springs dam, and after an inspection to The Cottage, where luncheon was served. Leaving The Cottage an inspection was made of the work thus far accomplished on the Hetch Hetchy tunnel, through which the Hetch Hetchy water will be carried through the hills from Redwood City to Crystal Springs reservoir. This tunnel when completed will be 8000 feet in length, and at present the bore has been run 590 feet on the western end and 560 feet on the eastern end.

The party was then taken to Calaveras reservoir in Alameda county, to the Water Temple in Sunol and to the pumping station in Pleasanton where the company has twenty-two artesian wells under pump. When these wells are under full pumping capacity, they are capable of producing enough water to care for 150,000 people.

After dinner at the company's clubhouse in Sunol the return trip was made, stopping at the Belmont pumping station where two of the five monster pumps now forcing water into San Francisco were installed by the late George W. Dibble of San Mateo in 1888, and have been pumping ever since.

Mr. Lawrence and his assistants proved themselves experienced hosts, and the trip from beginning to end was well planned and admirably carried out.

Old age isn't respectable just because it is old. Nothing is less so than an old reprobate.

PREPARATIONS GOING ON FOR CONVENTION

Committees of Local Moose Get Ready for Big Convention.

The committees in charge of the preparations for the big convention of the Loyal Order of Moose in this city November 11th and 12th are working hard, and all indications point to everything being in working order by the time the opening date arrives. As an indication of the scope of the preparations under way, it is announced that the Legion of the Golden West, the organization of second degree Moose, has appropriated $450 for an entertainment fund.

The committee on entertainment has announced that during the business sessions of the order to be held at the lodge room the women of the delegates' families will be entertained at the local theater.

One of the spectacular features planned for the convention is the contest of drill teams, to be staged in the center of town at the corner of Grand and Linden avenues. It is expected that there will be five of these teams and the rivalry between them should result in much fine work being done in the way of fancy drilling.

YEOMEN LODGE OF THIS CITY INSTALL OFFICERS

The local homestead of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen held its installation of officers at Fraternal Hall Wednesday evening of last week. Adolph C. Buehler was installed as foreman for the ensuing term. All of the chairs were filled by newly installed officers. A large gathering of Yeomen were present, San Bruno, Daly City and San Francisco being well represented. State Manager Elliott and District Deputy Cora Ebersole made interesting addresses on Yeomanry. At the conclusion of the meeting the visitors and local members repaired to the dining room and partook of a bountiful spread prepared by the Lady Rowena and her assistants.

FIREMEN AND OFFICIALS DINED AT FULLER CAFE

The members of the local fire department and the city officials were guests Thursday evening of last week at a dinner party at the cafeteria conducted at the Fuller paint works. The dinner was a compliment to the firemen and city officials by the managers of the eating house. After the meal had been disposed of there were short talks given by a number of the guests, Warren Emerick acting as toastmaster.

WOMAN'S CLUB CARD PARTY MONDAY WELL ATTENDED

The whist party given Monday night by the Woman's Club was well attended and about twenty dollars was realized. Prizes were won as follows: H. Suchy, first prize; Mrs. H. McGraw, second; Mrs. George Murdoch, third; C. W. King, fourth; Mrs. Harry Cavassa, fifth.

GOVT PLANS CUTTING THROUGH BAR IN BAY

Chamber Hears Letter From Washington; Talk Over Plans for Memberships and Funds Campaign.

Tuesday evening's meeting of the South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce brought out a prolonged discussion of the proposed drive to be launched here to secure new members for the organization and funds to carry on an extensive advertising campaign for this city. Many members present spoke on the two big features planned and new ideas were expressed and talked over. The committeemen who have plans for the drive in hand were instructed to attend the meeting of the Merchants' Association to be held Wednesday evening and discuss the matter with the association members. During the discussion it was announced that Emil Brisacher of San Francisco, one of the leading advertising men of this region and head of the Brisacher advertising company which is just closing an advertising campaign for Daly City, would attend the Wednesday evening's meeting of the Merchants' Association and tell what had been accomplished in the neighboring town.

Secretary F. A. Cunningham read a letter from the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, warning local business men against the operations of one T. H. McGurk, who was reported as visiting different towns and soliciting memberships at $15 each in an alleged organization called the "Business Men's Protective Association," which claims to defend its members against any criminal or civil action. If the man arrives here his presence should be reported to Secretary F. A. Cunningham in order that he may be apprehended.

The secretary read a communication from Washington, which stated that an appropriation had been allowed for the work of surveying the bay off South San Francisco with a view of cutting through the bar which divides the deep water in the upper bay from that of the lower bay. The letter asked that information be secured from different Chambers of Commerce farther down the peninsula as to the present amount of their shipping and prospective shipping if the barrier of the bay were removed.

W. J. Martin was appointed chairman of this committee with power to choose his own committeemen.

LOCAL DRIVERS INJURE MAN AT BELMONT MONDAY

S. N. Osborne, public accountant, of Morgan Hill, injured in an automobile accident at Belmont Monday, is in a critical condition at the Mills Memorial Hospital, it was reported. Little hope for his recovery is being held by physicians, so far as could be learned from the hospital.

David Farrell, South San Francisco, driver of the automobile which ran down Osborne, accompanied Constable Maurice Boland to the office of District Attorney Franklin Swart at Redwood City, where a full report of the accident was given to county authorities. Farrell was not arrested.

Witnesses said that Farrell locked his brakes some distance in advance of the point where Osborne was hit. As the car skidded, Osborne was struck by the rear fenders and thrown to the pavement. Farrell was accompanied by his father and M. Byrne, city electrician of South San Francisco, it was reported.

LOCAL CLOTHING STORE IS VISITED BY THIEVES

The Hub, the local clothing store of which Charles Guidi is proprietor, suffered a visit from nocturnal thieves Wednesday night of last week, and as a result is some $250 the loser, that amount being the value of clothing stolen. The articles lost include a couple of valuable overcoats, one of which taken from the window in plain view of the street, underwear and men's suits.

The thieves obtained entrance through the rear door, a panel being taken out so the robber's hand could be thrust through and the door unlocked. No clues as to the perpetrators of the robbery were left.

ANOTHER LIFE LOST ON THE HIGHWAY

DANGEROUS CORNER SOUTH OF COLMA SEES ANOTHER FATAL ACCIDENT; GIRL OF 18 YEARS DIES WHEN CAR STRIKES AUTO

Again the dangerous corner on the highway just south of the viaduct near Colma has a tragedy listed against it by the death in an auto accident there Saturday night of Miss Elizabeth Knoch, aged 18 years. Miss Knoch's former home was 61 Regent street, San Francisco. Others injured in the same accident were Mr. and Mrs. John Fox of 555 Bellevue avenue, Daly City. Mr. Fox suffered concussion of the brain and internal injuries, while his wife's head was badly crushed.

The accident occurred when Fox, who was driving the car in which the three were riding, drove on the tracks at the turn by the Masonic Cemetery. The highway at this point is on a level with the car tracks and the edge of the paving only a few feet from the rails. It is believed that Fox, who was driving north, became confused in the darkness by headlights on the approaching street car and another auto and drove on the tracks. In the crash all three of the adult passengers in the auto were thrown out, as well as an 11-months-old baby. Mrs. Fox was carrying in her arms. The baby was the only one which escaped injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox were taken to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco, while Miss Knoch was rushed to the South San Francisco Hospital, where she died within a few hours.

The street car was in charge of Nick Thomas, motorman, and Ben Danderer, conductor. The automobile was reduced to scrap iron.

The turn in the highway where the accident occurred is one of the most dangerous in this region. Several fatalities have happened here before. In the darkness or when confused by headlights or fog a driver is very likely to drive off the pavement and finds himself on the car tracks.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS TO GIVE DUTCH TREAT DINNER

The members of Peninsula Lodge of Perfection will sit down to a chicken dinner at the Poppy Cafe in Burlingame next Monday night at 6:30 o'clock. This will be in the nature of a Dutch treat, as each member is expected to pay for his own dinner, but inasmuch as a large crowd is expected the committee has been able to arrange with the management of the Poppy Cafe for an exceptionally fine chicken dinner at the nominal price of $1 per plate. The advance sale of tickets indicates a large crowd. All Scottish Rite Masons residing in San Mateo, Burlingame, Milbrae and South San Francisco, whether members of Peninsula Lodge or not, are invited to attend.

A stated meeting of Peninsula Lodge of Perfection will be held immediately after the dinner, the participants adjourning in a body to the lodge rooms.

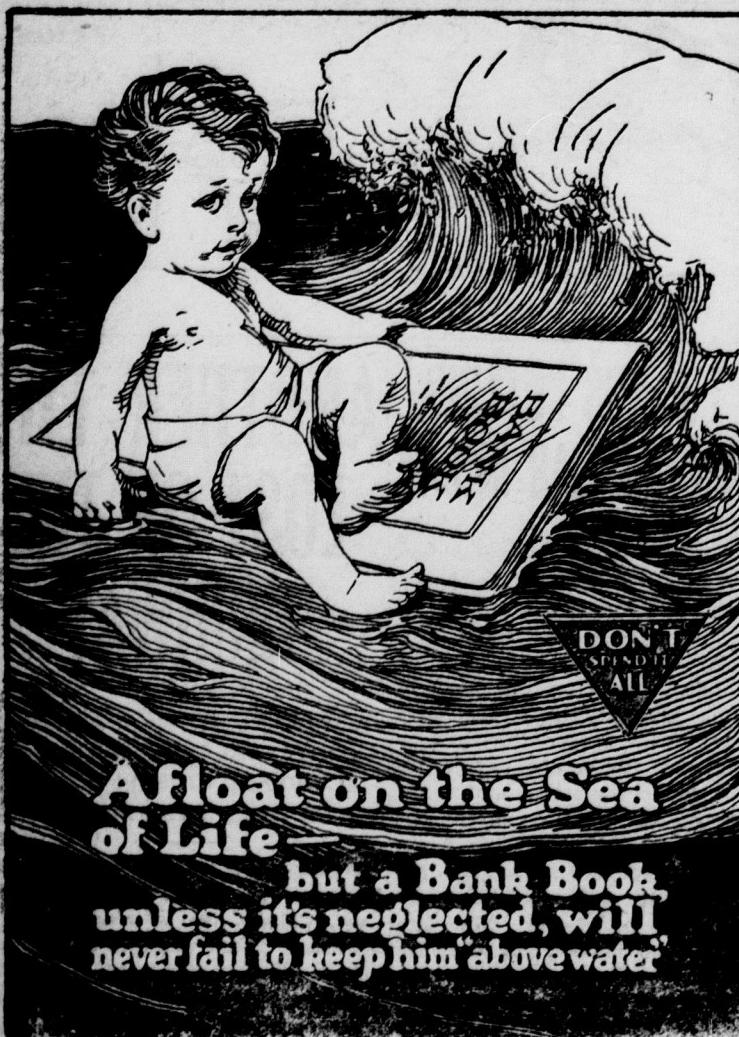

WATER COMPANY TUNNELS UNDER SAN BRUNO ROAD

The South San Francisco Water Company, while laying a new water main in Peck's Lots on Chapman avenue, tunneled under San Bruno road last Sunday. The tunnel crossed the highway at the foot of Chapman avenue.

MRS. SCAGLIA PASSES

Mrs. Govanna Scaglia, aged 63 years and for many years a resident of this city, died here Sunday after a short illness. The deceased was the aunt of Giuseppe, Raymond, Giessla and Alfred Zanetti. The funeral took place from the Nieri undertaking parlor Tuesday morning, with services at All Souls' Church and interment at the Italian Cemetery.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A ladies' auxiliary to our volunteer fire company is to be organized this week.

Mrs. Valerga and Mrs. Mossa came down from Napa Tuesday to consult Dr. Bohm in matters of sickness.

The Beeson family, who have occupied the Martin place in Huntington Park the past two months, moved to San Jose this week.

The Y. M. I. football team suffered its second successive defeat last Sunday, bowing this time to the W. O. W. eleven. The score was 2 to 8.

Our newspaper man, P. Barbieri, came near being laid cold last Saturday when a horse kicked him in the head, inflicting an ugly scalp wound.

James Bellamy of First Addition, whose foot had caused him untold trouble and agony, found it necessary to have the ailing member amputated last week.

Mrs. Willey of "Jack's Place" on the highway had her twin sister, Mrs. Lemmon, and her husband and the latter's aged mother, all of Sacramento, as Sunday guests.

While playing at Schuhmacher's on Tuesday, little Johnny Krysick of Third Addition was bitten by a dog belonging to the former. Dr. Bohm cauterized the wound.

As a result of being struck a glancing blow on his leg with a pickax, to which he paid but little attention, Mr. Fernandes of Millbrae is suffering from a case of blood poisoning.

Miss Matilda Fischer, second daughter of Mrs. Barbara Fischer, for many years a resident of Third Addition, was married last week in San Francisco to J. T. Griffin of that city.

The slipping of a ladder on which she was standing while painting their garage in Huntington Park, caused Mrs. Nagy to come to grief, cutting her arm badly in the fall on the glass door.

A Mr. King of San Francisco will immediately start building a four-apartment flat of four rooms each and a garage to house four cars on Mastick avenue, just east of Stewart's warehouse.

Fred Ward, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ward of Fourth Addition, is suffering from a severe case of blood poisoning in his leg, brought on by an infection of an insignificant sore on his foot.

While the Lomita Guild is staging a Hallowe'en party at the Lomita Park school house Saturday evening of this week, the local Parent-Teacher Association will hold forth at the "N. D." Hall with a grand whisky party.

There is rejoicing in the E. G. Daneri and W. Nerni families of Fifth Addition over the arrival of a little baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daneri at Antioch last week. The young mother was formerly Miss Rose Nerni of this place.

Mrs. Travioli of San Mateo avenue has bought the Grizes house on Taylor avenue, Third Addition, and along with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harte, expects to take possession of it within four or five weeks, when it is hoped Mr. Grizes will be so far along with his new home adjoining that he can move in with his family and finish the inside afterward.

The Millbrae Dairy wisely is constructing an underground passageway across the state highway for its cattle for safety's sake. The local correspondent of The Enterprise for months past has been advocating an underground passageway across the highway here in San Bruno for pedestrians for the very same reason. However, inasmuch as no steps have been taken in that direction, it would appear that a human life is not worth as much as that of a Millbrae "bossy."

Do you realize that money paid out in rent is just that much money thrown away? Why not own a home? A small payment down will start you on the right road. Your rent money will see you through. We have several exceptional buys. Moderately priced houses for people of moderate means, and more expensive ones, right up to the minute, furnished and unfurnished, for those who desire a classier home. A large list to select from. DOINGS OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

With all members of the board present, Trustee Edwards acted as clerk pro tem in the absence of City Clerk Miss Willits, who is still confined to her home by illness.

Building permits were granted as follows:

Mr. Nightingale, a garage in Fourth Addition.

Mr. King, a double flat with four apartments in Third Addition.

Mr. Grizes, a dwelling in Third Addition.

Mr. Valergo, an addition to his dwelling in Belle Air Park.

Peter Kempf, a dwelling in Huntington Park.

Mrs. Effort, to make alterations on dwelling in Huntington Park.

W. W. Payne, a club house opposite the entrance to Tanforan, for $75,000.

The Municipal Improvement Company was granted an extension of sixty days to complete its street work in Third Addition.

In a communication the League of California Municipalities requested the board to officially endorse the stand taken by this organization in convention at Palo Alto recently in the matter of opposing certain amendments to the constitution appearing on the ballot at the November election and which are detrimental to the welfare of the municipalities.

Mr. Lee of Fourth Addition in a letter protested against the erection of unsightly outbuildings on the front property line by a neighbor. Complaint will receive due attention.

The request of St. John's Evangelical Church for a light at the street intersection in front of the edifice was granted.

On the recommendation of Police Commissioner Smith, another unmounted police officer was added to our police force in the person of Al. Coturri, at a salary of $120 a month. Coturri is to act as traffic officer at the Northbrae school and do general police duties.

Both the volunteer fire company and the P. T. A. having made request for the $152 left over from the Armistice Day celebration in 1921, the former organization was given $100 to enable it to purchase a siren for the fire department, and the latter organization $52 toward equipping a float for the Armistice Day celebration at Pacific City.

The board voted the required $2000 toward the widening of the bridge at the Cabin, the State Highway Commission agreeing to finance the rest of the cost of the $5000 structure.

A town is judged by its outward appearance, just as a man is judged by his. A dirty town means dirty inhabitants.

The only thing the average citizen is sure of is that no matter who is in power, there will be taxes.

Stories of Great Scouts

By Elmo Scott Watson

© Western Newspaper Union.
"LONESOME CHARLEY" REYNOLDS, CUSTER'S SCOUT

Many noted scouts served with General Custer during his Indian campaigns, but his favorite of them all was Charles Reynolds, known as "Lonesome Charley." In the early seventies, Reynolds was a hunter for the garrison at Fort Rice, N. D. He was a quiet little man who lived much to himself and preferred to hunt alone, no matter how many hostile Indians were near. Because of his disregard for human companionship, he became known by everyone as "Lonesome Charley."

Reynolds first served under Custer in the exploration of the Yellowstone country in 1873. During his expedition two innocent civilians with Custer's command were murdered by the Indians. The next year, while Reynolds was attending a sun dance of the Sioux near Fort A. Lincoln, N. D., he heard a young chief named Rain-in-the-Face boast of the murder of the two men. Charley reported this to Custer and Rain-in-the-Face was arrested and imprisoned. Later he escaped and sent back his now-famous vow of vengeance of the whole Custer family.

"Lonesome Charley" was with Custer during the exploration of the Black hills in 1874. When gold was discovered, at Custer's request he rode 150 miles through a country swarming with hostile Indians to Fort Laramie, Wyo., in 48 hours and gave to the world the first news of the discovery, causing a stampede of miners into that region.

When Custer started on his last campaign against the Sioux in 1876, Reynolds was offered the position of chief guide.

When the Seventh cavalry left the steamer Far West, Reynolds was ill. Capt. Grant Marsh of the Far West tried to persuade him not to go with the expedition since he was in no condition to do any fighting. Reynolds refused.

"I've been waiting and getting ready for this expedition for two years, captain, and I'd rather be dead than miss it," he said earnestly. So he rode away to his death.

When Custer divided his command to attack the Sioux on the Little Big Horn, the scout was sent with Major Reno. The Indians swept down upon Reno and forced him back to the wooded bluffs across the river. "Lonesome Charley" was killed in this retreat. His body was found surrounded by 60 empty cartridge shells. He had died fighting.

Two Dark Sides.

"Cyrus Rasp ran a grocery store down on the corner for about twenty-six years," related old Riley Rezzidew of Petunia, "and as he done so utilized about half his time in denouncing the public for a lot of thieving hypocrites, who prayed loudly with one hand on the Sabbath and beat him out of his just dues with the other on week days, figuratively speaking, of course. Said he ort to know, if anybody did, that 65 per cent of humanity was intentionally dishonest.

"Well, then a feller came along and gave him about twice what it was worth for his store. And ever since he has been declaring that 90 per cent of the retailers are and always have been thieves and robbers, and mentioning that he ort to know if anybody does. And as far as I can make out, he's pretty near right on both propositions." — Kansas City Star.

VICTIM OF SAN BRUNO CRASH DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

The accident that occurred at the San Bruno crossing October 9th, when the car in which M. B. Moon of Saratoga was driving was struck by a San Mateo electric car, can be added to the list of fatalities taking place at that point, as Mr. Moon died in San Francisco last Sunday night.

The victim of the accident was first brought to the South San Francisco Hospital, where he was found to have a broken collar bone, broken hip and broken elbow. His car was reduced to junk and only a miracle saved Mr. Moon from instant death. He seemed to be rallying from his injuries while in the local hospital under Dr. Dolley's care, but later was moved to San Francisco and death followed.

The deceased was an elderly man and was president of the Superior Farm Lands Company, with offices in the Mills building. He was a member of the Bohemian Club, San Francisco Golf and Country Club and Islam Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., of San Francisco, as well as the Union League Club of Chicago, the Detroit Athletic Club of Chicago, the Detroit Athletic Club, Commandery No. 1 of Detroit K. T., and the Michigan Sovereign Consistory. He was also a patron of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

LADIES' AID BAZAAR PROVING SUCCESSFUL

The bazaar held by the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's Methodist Church at the local justice court room Wednesday and today is proving a very successful affair, as this event always has in the past. The bazaar opened with a lunch Wednesday. It was open to the public and was well patronized, the long tables being filled during the noon hour. Many articles of clothing and fancy work placed on sale by the members of the Ladies' Aid have been purchased and a comfortable sum is being realized from the venture.

Harmless Cheer.

"Well," answered Broncho Bob, "as near as I kin make out, an optimist is a feller that kin look at a pair of deuces an' imagine it's as good as three kings; an' still have sense enough not to bet on the hand." — Washington Star.

"It is not important that I be elected, but if elected it is important that I be free from all selfish interests, political machines and bosses. And I assure you that when I take office I will be free and untrammeled, bound only by my oath to the people and the state."—Friend W. Richardson.

THE WATER AND POWER ACT

In the absence of any popular demand for state development of hydroelectric resources, it is certainly up to the little group of self-appointed guardians of the public welfare who gave it birth to show substantial reasons why the people should stand the great risks involved in their $500,000,000 water and power scheme.

So far advocates of the proposed amendment have confined themselves to rosy promises of "power at cost" and "no taxes" and so on that are not supported by the act itself. They have made vague charges that California's development has been backward because of improper use of our hydroelectric resources, but these charges are nullified by the incontrovertible fact that nowhere is power so cheap nor so plentiful as in California.

Half a billion dollars is a huge sum, and the idea of mortgaging all the property in the state to support a bond issue of that amount is repugnant unless some very real benefits can be absolutely assured. To entrust the uncontrolled right to spend $500,000,000 of the people's money to five men whom the people cannot elect involves a risk too great to be taken unless a fair chance for some benefit is shown. So far the propagandists for the water and power "act" have proved neither a demand for it nor a possibility of any great return from it. The reason they have not done so is obvious—the people of California have absolutely nothing to gain from the proposed amendment and everything to lose.

The risk of heavy losses and increased taxes that it entails is enough to defeat the water and power "act" overwhelmingly. Even if this risk were minimized, the folly of handing so huge a sum as $500,000,000 to an autocratic board of five men empowered to spend it as they see fit and authorized to create a political machine that would be more powerful than the people themselves is apparent enough to condemn the measure utterly.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

Government chemists are now working out a means of producing a cheap fuel for motor cars from corn cobs, and are said to be meeting with gratifying success.

It is doubtful, however, if it will ever be placed on the market where the users of motor cars can take advantage of it at reduced cost. The oil and gasoline interests are too rich and powerful to ever allow such disastrous competition with their industry to exist.

Periodically we hear such reports, and motorists become enthused over the possibility of cheaper fuel for their engines.

Then the project goes the way of its predecessors—possibly through strangulation—and the public continues to line the pockets of the oil barons.

The great American throat is not so parched as it was. It is becoming wetter ever day.

Statistics from Washington state that in 1921 every man, woman and child in the United States consumed an average of forty-nine gallons of milk, or nearly a gallon a week, per capita.

That is encouraging. It is also disheartening—to those who would abolish prohibition.

A nation that consumes a gallon of milk a week per person will surely not suffer to any great extent as a result of that "terrible thirst."

In time it may become corpulent—even fat.

The flapper has had a great run for her money. She has been the observed of all observers, the admired of all admirers, and the cussed of all cussers.

She flapped herself into fame and now she is on the verge of flapping herself into oblivion.

But there's a reason.

Americans like sensations—those that are spicy but brief. We haven't the time to pursue any one sensation to a great length. There are too many others waiting to edge in.

The flapper was a sensation—for a time. But she flapped so strenuously, in season and out, that she became wearisome to the public, and now she is about to become a nuisance. Soon she will be flapping only for her own admiration.

But she was quite worth while. She furnished us a few thrills, and was the object of many new jests—all of which is necessary in the average American day.

We will bid her adieu without regret. What will we get next?

o o o o

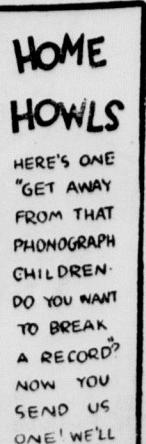

If you were to see a beautiful woman walking along the street would you steal her purse? Of course not. It is absurd to even think of such an act.

And yet, when some one makes a suggestive remark about her, and some other fellow enlarges upon it and passes it along, both are committing an even greater offense. They may be robbing her of her good name.

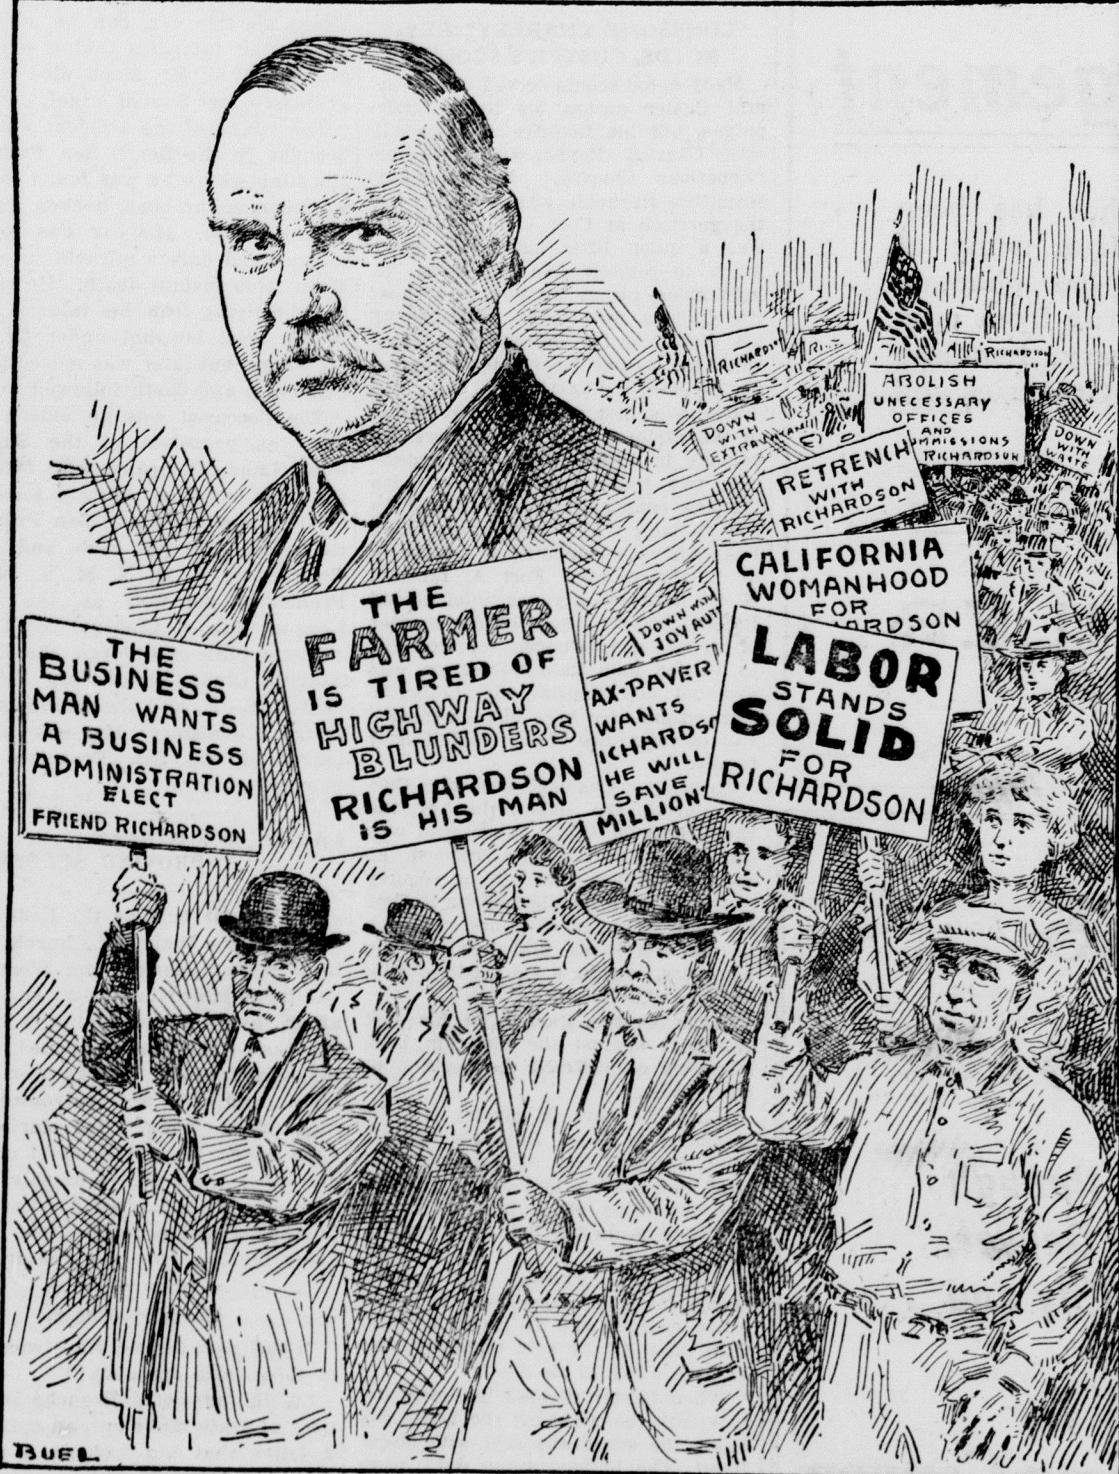

She can buy a new purse. She can not buy another reputation.

FORD TELLS HOW HE DOES IT

According to a statement just issued by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T cars and the Ford one-ton truck, effective October 17th.

"The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody.

"Our production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5000 cars and trucks, which means a complete Ford car or truck every 5½ seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality."

Richard Lloyd Jones tells

About Our New Crop, Culture.

In 1847 a play by an American author was produced in a New York theatre. It was the custom then, as long since, for Americans themselves to believe that that which represented purest culture must come from overseas.

Before the curtain rose on this new play, the leading actor stepped before the footlights and read a poem-prologue which scoffed at the idea that an American could write a drama, and rebuked the sneer by emphatically declaring that an American can. The audience greeted the patriotic plea and the play with cheers.

Since that day many Americans have written many great plays. An American culture has expressed itself as well in the field of fiction, poetry and philosophy; in art, music and in science.

Culture is just as much a crop as corn. It is the refinement of the product of the cultivated field. Growing great crops, producing great bulk, we have refined our output into the best makes of food and clothes the world has ever known. From the earth we dig both gold and iron ore, and through the refining processes we produce the delicately intricate watch.

The genius that can dig out the hillside and convert it into a watch can find the melody of the brook in the string of the violin.

An American pianist who had acquired international note went abroad to play. With the skill of 1922 she had the frail faith of 1847, and had to go abroad to discover America.

In her first performance only once, and then for an encore, did she play a composition penned by an American composer. The critics rebuked her.

"We know what European music is," they said. "We came to get your message. We came to rejoice over the harvest of your crop of culture. Give us not that which is ours; give us that which is yours."

America is developing an architecture as distinct and as secure as that of Ancient Greece or Rome. One of our greatest sculptors found his art on the parched plains of Utah. One of our greatest painters came from a little town hidden in the foothills of the Adirondacks. He has pictured for the future historian the romance of the opening West.

O. Henry, the master artist of short-story writing in the English language, found his fiction in the ranch life of Texas.

When a $10,000 prize was recently offered for the best contributed movie scenario, it went to an unknown writer from Apalachicola, a small town with a big name. Brains are found on Main Street as well as on Broadway.

The phonograph, the radio and the moving picture screens are building, not only appreciation, but the creative genius to which appreciation responds.

We need no longer look east for the finer things. That east is looking westward for that which we have to give.

We are ripening a crop of culture just as surely as we are ripening a crop of corn.

Poem by Uncle John

I love to talk with fellers, with a glitter in their eye, in defiance of the panic that is slowly passin' by. . . . I love to see 'em swagger, an' to elevate their chin—an' to hear 'em speak of pluggin' till their ship comes in. . . .

I like to run across 'em, as we travel on ROUGH SEA our way. . . . I take a lot of stock in what they SAILORS do, an' what they say. . . . I get my inspiration, and the firm desire to win, from the feller that's-a-pluggin' till his ship comes in.

I ain't got time to listen at the bird of grim despair—that dotes on disappointments, till they get him by the hair—but you'll see my spirit quicken, like you'd stuck me with a pin—when my neighbor speaks of pluggin' till his ship comes in!

Uncle John,

HOMELY PHILOSOPHY for 1922

WHAT a wonderful boy they say he is—David Gladstone, fifteen years old, four feet tall, and yet a freshman in the College of Arts and Pure Sciences of New York University. He plans to enter law school as soon as he has completed his college requirements. Education? A prodigy, one of the seven wonders of the world. Ain't it a funny idea when those who see the setting of the sun know that a boy of seven—the age of reason—always has a much better education than Gladstone when he is taught, and really learns that happiness comes from making the other fellow happy. That's the meat. Why fuss over the trimmings?

BEAUTIFUL CLUBHOUSE TO BE BUILT AT TANFORAN

A beautiful and pretentious clubhouse will be constructed soon at Tanforan race track for the convenience and pleasure of the members of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, according to plans that have been announced within the last few days. At the meeting of the San Bruno city trustees Wednesday evening a building permit was granted to W. W. Payne for the construction of a clubhouse on the highway near the front entrance of the track, the building to cost $75,000. The jockey club recently purchased a tract of land at this point from the South San Francisco Land Company. The size of the building or its style of architecture have not yet been announced, but the fact that it is to cost $75,000 would indicate a most pretentious edifice.

Plans for the grandstand at the new Tanforan race track were completed Tuesday, according to an announcement made by Secretary Howard Spreckels of the Pacific Coast Jockey Club, and will be immediately submitted to contractors for bids. Within the next few weeks the contract will have been awarded and actual work commenced.

The grandstand will have a seating capacity of 5000 and will be of the latest design for race track buildings. It is confidently expected that the grandstand will be finished in sufficient time for a grand opening of the new course on Washington Birthday next.

The stables at the track were constructed in contract time, and represent an outlay of approximately $70,000. The grandstand will exceed this figure, according to estimates, and before the opening the interests promoting the track will have expended over $150,000 in buildings alone, exclusive of the amount required to put the old speedway in shape for racing.

"Surely—I can't buy the stuff I want there?"

"No, you can't buy it there—and that's the only place in town where you can't."

Interesting Powder Horn Map.

A map engraved on an old powder horn may lead to the location of the sites of several Cherokee Indian towns in western North Carolina, according to the Bureau of American Ethnology at Washington.

The powder horn is a loan from Hugh Kirk, Newtowndale, County Down, Ireland, and dates from about 1750 when the English were beginning to open up the Cherokee region. It belonged to James Grant, member of a company of British soldiers stationed near Charlestown and near Fort Loudon and Fort Prince George in the Cherokee country about the time that these forts were besieged.

The horn is elaborately engraved with the royal arms of Great Britain and the map showing the ancient town of Ucucsee and other towns in the region in which the soldier saw service.

Perpetual Motion Discredited.
It seems hardly credible, but up to the year 1772, there was no scientist in all Europe who knew enough to categorically deny that there was such a thing as perpetual motion.

It remained for Sir Isaac Newton and the French scientist, De La Hire, to demonstrate beyond doubt the impossibility of attaining it.

Quite a little time passed before the scientific world in general was willing to accept the Newtonian theory, but finally the French Academy of Science at Paris, in 1775, publicly declared that perpetual motion was an impossibility and thereby branded all those who still insisted upon experimenting with it as charlatans.—Pittsburgh Leader.

Multiples Scenery.

A Russian widow, Mme. Ivan Bontkovsky, has devised an ingenious scheme for "multiple scenery," whereby two scenes are painted upon one canvas. Colored lights are thrown upon this drop-scene, which bring out certain colors while concealing others, so that with the same stage setting either a landscape or an interior may immediately be brought into view. Playing several acts with one set of scenery is an idea that should appeal strongly to producers, both as a novelty and from an economical point of view.—Scientific American.

GIRLS' BLOCK LETTER SOCIETY

The S. S. F. H. S. Block Letter Society held a meeting Thursday.

The one important subject that was discussed was that a girl should play either on the unlimited or the 125-pound basket-ball teams.

The majority of girls at this meeting decided in a few minutes that they would want to play on the unlimited basket-ball team, as that was the most important one in the league.

Miss Clifford introduced a new song for the teams to use when entertaining other teams as guests.

Song

Here's to you (name of school)
Here's to you, our joyful friends,
And we'll sing before this
Merry, merry company
We'll sing before we part.
Here's to you (name of school)
For they are jolly good fellows
For they are jolly good fellows
For they are jolly good fellows
For they're from the (name of school)
So say we all of us
So say we all of us
So say we all,
So say we all of us
So say we all.

YANNIGANS VS. HIGH SCHOOL

Last Saturday afternoon a large group of spectators gathered at the high school to witness the defeat of the Yannigans.

Although outweighed, the high school boys came out on the long end of a 19 to 0 score. After the first whistle the outcome was never in doubt. Our line made holes for the backs consistently, enabling them to make long gains. Early in the first quarter Doak crossed the line with a pass. We failed to convert.

The second quarter opened with our boys full of pep and determined to score again. And they did. Doak ran forty-five yards to a touchdown on a trick end run. Vaccari kicked the goal, making the score 13 to 0 at half time.

The third quarter ended without a score on either side.

The fourth quarter was a line-smashing period on both sides, ending in a score for the high school. The game ended a few minutes later. Tom Doak took the honors for making points, crossing the line three times.

EDUCATION IS WORK

Many people wonder of what good a high school education is to a boy or girl.

It is just this, a high school education is another and larger stepping stone to success and better things.

I do not mean that every student graduating from high school is well educated, for there are some pupils who go through grammar and high school and then have not learned enough to raise them above the surface, but high school provides for better things with their help. The books are furnished and the pupils

TOWN PESTS

TACTFUL.

Little Charlotte accompanied her mother to the home of an acquaintance.

When the dessert course was reached the little girl was brought down and given a place next to her mother at the table. The hostess was a woman much given to talking, and quite forgot to give little Charlotte anything to eat. After some time had elapsed Charlotte could bear it no longer. With the sobs rising in her throat, she held up her plate as high as she could and said: "Does anybody want a clean plate?"—Argonaut.

Col. Good and Neighbors made power development possible

COLONEL GOOD and Citizen Thrifty—together with nearly fifty thousand other people, mostly Californians—are the ones who stood back of the P G and E engineers and other employees in developing the present wealth of hydro-electric power.

SUCH MEN AS Merchant Square and Judge Right—the neighborly fellows you see daily—are the ones who advanced the money to make the development work possible.

people do the work, and 1,700,000 people are served thereby. Here is community co-operation with a vengeance.

WHEN ONE STOPS to consider it, there is small wonder that "Superior" California is so generously supplied with electrical power at the present time. Such teamwork cannot help but bring success.

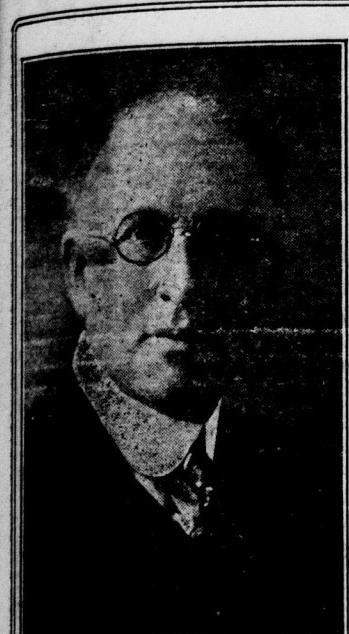

IN VIEW of the fact that this section now has a surplus of power, and that this Company is rapidly developing even more power, it only remains for the people to co-operate in devising ways to make greater use of power in order to hasten a greater prosperity.

HALFMONB BAY OIL WELL STILL PRODUCING WELL

The Sage & Olson oil well in Purissima canyon near Halfmoon Bay, the first "gusher" ever struck in the San Mateo county coast oil fields, is, according to latest reports, "holding its own." With the well cased to a depth of 930 feet, the company is pumping one hour each day, obtaining approximately ten barrels of 56 gravity oil.

As an experiment to obtain knowledge from which level the best flow of oil can be obtained, the casing is being perforated at different points, and to date the finest flow is issuing from the 700-foot level. The oil is said to be 75 per cent gasoline, and with its high gravity the ten-barrel-an-hour flow is said by oil men to be equal to a 3000-barrel well in other California fields. It is rumored that officials of the Standard Oil Company have inspected the Sage & Olson well at Purissima canyon, and have been said to state that should the ten-barrel-an-hour flow prove permanent, the property on which it is located will be worth more than $1,000,000 to oil interests.

SAN BRUNO BANK OPENS BEAUTIFUL NEW HOME

The California Bank of San Mateo county, located at San Bruno, Monday evening held a formal opening in its handsome new building at the corner of San Mateo and Sylvan avenues.

Practically the entire population of San Bruno took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the new premises. Informal talks were made by Hardin Hatch, the president of the institution, and by other citizens.

The bank building is one of which San Bruno may well feel proud. It is the first concrete building to be erected in that city, and in addition to other up-to-date equipment has a large safe deposit vault in which boxes have been installed. A larger vault for the storage of larger items has also been provided.

MERCHANTS TALK DRIVE AND HAVE REFRESHMENTS

There was a large gathering of members of the Merchants' Association at the city hall Wednesday evening.
